1. Call to Order & Introductions

Committee Chair and Board of Trustees Vice President, Juan Hernandez called the meeting to order at 5:05 pm.

Juan Hernandez read the NLACRC Civility Code and welcomed everyone to the meeting.

2. Agenda

M/S/C (Destry Walker/Bill Abrahamson) On a motion made by Destry Walker, seconded by Bill Abrahamson, it was resolved to approve the agenda. Motion carried.

3. Public Input

There was no public input.

4. Consent Items

- A. Approval of Minutes from April 2, 2026 Meeting

M/S/C (Destry Walker/Juan Hernandez) On a motion made by Destry Walker, seconded by Juan Hernandez, it was resolved to approve the meeting minutes from the April 2, 2026 meeting. Motion carried.

5. Online Safety – Vipin Gautam, IT Director

Vipin Gautam, IT Director, introduced himself to the committee and shared that Vipin Gautam had recently joined NLACRC approximately one month earlier. Vipin Gautam shared that Vipin Gautam was enjoying the new role and the opportunity to support NLACRC's mission. Vipin Gautam then provided a cybersecurity awareness presentation focused on helping committee members better understand current cyber threats and the practical steps individuals can take to protect themselves online.

Vipin Gautam explained that some of the most common cybersecurity threats currently affecting individuals and organizations include phishing emails, malware, ransomware, and identity theft.

Vipin Gautam described phishing attacks as deceptive emails designed to trick people into sharing usernames, passwords, financial information, or other sensitive personal data. Vipin Gautam explained that malware can infect personal or company devices through malicious software and operate behind the scenes to compromise systems or steal information. Vipin Gautam also discussed ransomware attacks, in which hackers lock users out of their systems and demand payment, often in cryptocurrency, in exchange for restoring access. Vipin Gautam further highlighted identity theft as a growing concern, explaining that stolen personal information can be used fraudulently to open credit accounts or misuse someone's identity.

Vipin Gautam shared a personal example involving a family member who had been manipulated through a fraudulent online relationship scam and ultimately lost money over time. Vipin Gautam explained that cybercriminals often target individuals who may be less familiar with technology or online scams, using emotional manipulation and social engineering tactics to gain trust before exploiting victims. Vipin Gautam stressed that cyber threats can affect anyone and that awareness is one of the strongest forms of protection.

Vipin Gautam reviewed common ways cyberattacks occur, including social engineering, weak or reused passwords, suspicious links, fake offers, and malicious attachments. Vipin Gautam warned that urgent requests, unusual sender information, hyperlinks directing users to unfamiliar websites, and emails asking for credentials are common warning signs of phishing attempts. Vipin Gautam emphasized that individuals should slow down, carefully review messages, and avoid acting immediately when something appears suspicious.

As part of the presentation, Vipin Gautam shared a cybersecurity training video based on a real healthcare data breach involving a phishing attack that resulted in the theft of approximately 1.5 million patient records. The video demonstrated how a spoofed email, suspicious timing, foreign characters, and an unsafe attachment contributed to the breach and highlighted the serious consequences of cyberattacks, including exposure of sensitive medical information. Following the video, committee members participated in an interactive assessment to identify phishing warning signs and discuss safe email practices. Committee members engaged in discussion around suspicious emails sent at unusual times and urgent requests requiring immediate action.

Vipin Gautam reviewed practical cybersecurity safety tips for both workplace and personal devices. Vipin Gautam encouraged committee members to enable two-factor authentication, regularly update software, avoid suspicious links and downloads, use trusted websites, protect passwords, and avoid storing passwords insecurely on devices. Vipin Gautam cautioned that home devices often do not have the same security protections as workplace systems and therefore require additional vigilance. Vipin Gautam also advised committee members to be cautious when using search engines, noting that sponsored links can sometimes direct users to fraudulent websites designed to steal information. Vipin Gautam explained that outdated software can leave devices vulnerable to known exploits and reinforced the importance of installing updates promptly.

Vipin Gautam informed committee members that suspicious emails can be reported directly through the phishing report button in Outlook or by contacting NLACRC IT support for review and investigation. Vipin Gautam explained that the IT department can quarantine suspicious emails and provide guidance on whether a message is safe. Vipin Gautam concluded the presentation by offering continued support and availability for follow-up questions.

Committee members thanked Vipin Gautam for the informative presentation and discussed the importance of cybersecurity awareness and data protection. Juan Hernandez shared a personal experience involving ransomware that resulted in the loss of files, documents, photos, and contacts, emphasizing the importance of backups and exercising caution online. Vipin Gautam acknowledged that cyber incidents in personal life can also affect workplace productivity because recovering from attacks can be time-consuming and disruptive.

Additional discussion included questions regarding cloud storage, backup practices, and data protection strategies. In response to questions from Bill Abramson, Vipin Gautam advised committee members to identify the data most important to them and back it up in multiple locations on a regular basis, rather than attempting to store everything unnecessarily. Discussion also touched on the cost and storage limitations of cloud services and external hard drives. Bill Abramson raised an additional topic related to computer performance and “cyber clutter,” and Vipin Gautam offered to revisit that subject during a future discussion.

6. Action Items

There were no action items.

6. Committee Business

A. NINJIO – “Perfect Timing”

A second cybersecurity training video was shown to the committee focusing on social engineering and brand impersonation scams. The video illustrated a scenario in which an individual received a professional-looking cryptocurrency promotion claiming that money sent in Bitcoin would be tripled in return. The training highlighted how scammers use urgency, financial pressure, professional branding, and time-limited offers to manipulate individuals into acting quickly without verifying the legitimacy of the message. Key takeaways from the video emphasized avoiding rushed decisions, verifying promotional offers through trusted sources, and recognizing that requests to send money in order to receive money—particularly through cryptocurrency—are strong indicators of fraud.

Following the video, committee members participated in an interactive assessment reviewing statements related to phishing and social engineering tactics. Committee members discussed how scams can appear legitimate and noted that professional-looking messages, trusted brand impersonation, urgency, and time-sensitive offers are common techniques used in social engineering attacks. Committee members also discussed that scams can affect anyone and are not limited to individuals who are careless or uninformed. Through the group discussion, committee members worked together to identify the correct responses and reinforce key warning signs of fraudulent messages and scam attempts.

B. Discussion: Preferred Future Terminology for Individuals Served

Juan Hernandez introduced a discussion regarding terminology used to refer to individuals who receive regional center services, noting that the term “consumer” has been used for many years but may no longer be the preferred or most appropriate term. Committee members discussed possible alternatives, including “members,” “community members,” “clients,” “individuals served,” and “persons served.”

Bill Abramson asked what concerns existed with continuing to use the term “consumer.” Angela Pao-Johnson explained that some community members feel the word “consumer” can sound transactional and may not reflect how individuals want to be identified. Angela Pao-Johnson also shared that proposed legislation has raised additional discussion around replacing the term “consumer,” including a proposed phrase, “persons eligible for regional center services,” though Angela Pao-Johnson noted that phrase may be too long for practical use.

Committee members discussed the strengths and challenges of different terminology options. Bill Abramson expressed support for “individuals served,” noting that it sounded more universal and person-centered than “clients.” Elena Tiffany shared that DDS appears to be moving toward terms such as “individuals served” and “clients,” and noted that the term “consumer” is increasingly viewed as outdated. Destry Walker shared that New Horizons uses the term “members,” while Elena Tiffany noted that “members” could be confusing because it may imply membership in a club or organization.

Angela Pao-Johnson emphasized that any terminology change should come from the broader community and asked committee members for suggestions on how to gather input. Juan Hernandez suggested asking individuals during IPP meetings or including a question with IPP-related materials, though Angela Pao-Johnson noted that this could duplicate the existing IPP survey process and may create additional documentation challenges. Lindsay Granger shared Elena Tiffany’s chat suggestion to use focus groups or surveys at day programs. Committee members discussed bringing the question to vendors and asking for their support in gathering input from the individuals they serve.

The committee also discussed that if terminology changes are adopted more broadly, NLACRC may need to update its bylaws and potentially rename the Consumer Advisory Committee. Lindsay Granger noted that a terminology change in the bylaws would likely affect the committee’s name as well. Committee members briefly discussed possible future committee names, including options related to clients, individuals served, community members, and advocates.

Angela Pao-Johnson suggested adding this topic to the upcoming Vendor Advisory Committee agenda and potentially creating a poll for vendors to share with individuals they serve. Lindsay Granger agreed to add the item to the agenda and send the updated agenda to Public Information for reposting. Angela Pao-Johnson also asked Lindsay Granger to notify Alex Kopilevich, as VAC Chair, about the addition. The committee agreed that the topic would need to be revisited for further discussion.

C. SCDD Training Schedule

This items was deferred until the next meeting.

D. Upcoming Board of Trustees, Vendor Advisory Committee, and Consumer Advisory Committee Dinner

Juan Hernandez reminded committee members of the upcoming Board of Trustees, Vendor Advisory Committee, and Consumer Advisory Committee Dinner. Lindsay Granger confirmed that the dinner is scheduled for May 28 at 6:00 p.m. Juan Hernandez noted that CAC members are invited to attend and may bring a plus one.

Juan Hernandez reminded committee members to complete the RSVP form or contact Lindsay Granger directly if they had not already responded. Lindsay Granger confirmed that Juan Hernandez, Destry Walker, and Elena Tiffany had RSVP'd. Lindsay Granger noted that confirmation was still needed from Bill Abramson and Pam.

Bill Abramson asked for clarification regarding the event location and whether there was a cost to attend. Juan Hernandez confirmed that the dinner is free to attend and reiterated that members may bring a guest. Bill Abramson indicated that Bill Abramson planned to RSVP.

E. Upcoming Jynny Retzinger's Legislative Breakfast

Chris Whitlock, filling in for Belinda Abatesi, provided an update on the upcoming Legislative Breakfast scheduled for June 12. Chris Whitlock shared that registration had opened and the event reached capacity within a few hours, resulting in a waitlist. Chris Whitlock noted that committee members who are still interested in attending may contact Lindsay Granger to check whether additional spots may be available for CAC members.

Juan Hernandez asked about the invitation and registration process. Lindsay Granger confirmed that a follow-up email had been re-sent that day to individuals who had not yet RSVP'd. Bill Abramson confirmed receipt of the reminder email.

F. Upcoming Events and Flyers

Santos Rodriguez provided an overview of several upcoming community events taking place throughout May in recognition of Mental Health Awareness Month and other community outreach efforts. Santos Rodriguez shared that the 5th Annual Wellness Resource Fair would take place on May 9 at Birmingham Charter High School from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and would include local resources, a car show, live music, and giveaways. Santos Rodriguez also announced a Mental Health Awareness event at Mission College on May 12 from 10:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., featuring wellness activities, food, music, giveaways, and community resources in partnership with the Department of Mental Health.

Additional events highlighted included Senior Fest on May 15 at Las Palmas Park in the City of San Fernando, which would feature breakfast, art therapy, bingo, fitness demonstrations, music, and community resources. Santos Rodriguez also shared information about the Salute to Recreation Family Festival, a free three-day event taking place May 15–17 at Northridge Recreation Center featuring food, entertainment, a marketplace, Battle of the Bands, and dancing. Santos Rodriguez noted that One Generation's 17th Annual Senior Symposium would take place on May 16 in Van Nuys and would include health screenings, vendors, live music, Zumba, and additional community resources.

Santos Rodriguez also highlighted several additional wellness and resource events later in the month, including San Fernando Valley Community Mental Health Center's ACES Aware Day on May 19 in Van Nuys, which would feature food, activities, giveaways, and mental health wellness resources. Santos Rodriguez shared that LA Family Housing's Homeless Connect Day would take place on May 21 in North Hollywood and would provide housing, legal, medical, and government resources, as well as free clothing and haircuts for community members in need. Santos Rodriguez also announced a mental health resource fair on May 23 in Arleta featuring food, music, and community activities, as well as a City of San Fernando Job Fair on May 27 at Las Palmas Park featuring employers and workforce resources, including Goodwill, America's Job Center, and city and county representatives.

Committee members asked follow-up questions regarding specific event flyers, event locations, and whether materials had been distributed in English and Spanish. Santos Rodriguez clarified that some events had bilingual flyers available and explained the difference between the May 23 mental health resource fair and the May 27 job fair after questions were raised about the flyer dates and locations. Santos Rodriguez confirmed that the two events were separate and provided additional clarification on the event details.

7. Review Actions

Lindsay Granger reviewed the committee's action item from the earlier terminology discussion, noting that the discussion regarding replacing the term "consumer" and a potential community poll would be brought to the upcoming Vendor Advisory Committee meeting for additional feedback and input from the vendor community. Lindsay Granger shared that the next Vendor Advisory Committee meeting would take place the following Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in person at the Santa Clarita Valley office, with a Zoom option also available for those interested in attending virtually. Lindsay Granger invited committee members to email directly if they would like the virtual meeting link. Additional clarification was provided regarding the Vendor Advisory Committee meeting schedule, and committee members were informed that the committee typically meets on the second Thursday of each month, except during months when the committee is dark.

8. Announcements/Information/Public Input

Angela Pao-Johnson announced that NLACRC is currently developing a new strategic plan in partnership with KH Consulting Group. Angela Pao-Johnson shared that KH Consulting Group would be distributing an electronic survey in mid-May and encouraged committee members to participate. Angela Pao-Johnson explained that the purpose of the survey is to gather community input to help shape a new mission, vision, and values statement that better reflects NLACRC and its work today. Angela Pao-Johnson noted that previous mission, vision, and values statements had been developed by the Board, and staff had expressed feeling disconnected from that process. Angela Pao-Johnson emphasized that the current effort is intended to include broader community input, including staff and stakeholders, so that all voices can help inform the strategic planning process. Committee members asked clarifying questions regarding the survey, and Angela Pao-Johnson confirmed that the survey would be distributed electronically in the coming weeks.

During public input, Destry Walker raised concerns regarding a New Horizons program flyer advertising admission to the LA County Fair for participants who donated canned goods. Destry Walker shared concerns that eligibility appeared to be limited to individuals physically attending the program in person, while some participants who attend virtually on Zoom did not appear to have the same opportunity to participate. Destry Walker expressed frustration about what was perceived as an unfair difference in access and asked whether Regional Center staff could provide clarification.

Angela Pao-Johnson acknowledged the concern, summarized the issue for the committee, and clarified that the matter appeared to be related to a New Horizons program activity rather than a Regional Center event. Angela Pao-Johnson advised that the provider would likely be best positioned to address the program's participation requirements, but offered to speak with Destry Walker offline to determine how NLACRC might assist. Angela Pao-Johnson thanked Destry

Walker for sharing the concern and acknowledged the frustration expressed regarding the situation.

Juan Hernandez then asked whether there was any additional public input.

No further public comments were raised.

8. Adjournment

Juan Hernandez adjourned the meeting at 6:19 pm
